Native Americans Research Project

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

We have been learning about Native Americans in class. Using what you have learned, along with your own extended research, you will complete a research project on one of five Native American topics. Several Native American tribes will all be explored by you and your classmates. Your assigned Native American topic is:

Even though you will be completing this project on your own, some of your classmates will be learning about the same topic. It is important and helpful to share the resources that are available to you.

This research project will have two parts. The first part is a research paper. The second part is a PowerPoint Presentation. Before you start working on either part, you will need to research and plan.

The most important part of researching is READING! You will have time in class to read and research, but you may need to spend more time outside of school researching. It is important to use multiple resources and be sure to find information in both books and on the internet.

It is important to pay attention to all due dates in order to make sure you complete your research project on time. Here are some dates to keep in mind:

All research and notes due: Monday, November 11

Rough draft of research paper due: Monday, November 18

Final copy of research paper due: Tuesday, November 26

Google Slides Planner Packet due: Monday, November 18

Google Slides Presentation due: Monday, November 25

Tips for Success

- Use your PowerPoint Planner to help you plan out your presentation before you get started.
- Use your notes for information.
- Include colorful and interesting photographs, drawings, and maps.
- Limit the use of flashy transitions and sounds unless it adds to your presentation. Your presentation should look professional.
- Remember that good presenters DO NOT read from their slides. It is important to write notes for each slide on index cards to help you with your presentation.
- Make eye contact with your audience during your presentation.
- Use your time wisely and pay attention to your due date.
